TAMMANYITES MAKE BIG CLAIMS.

Republican Organization Leaders Also Declare That Tracy Will Win—From 300 to 400 Meetings Being Held Nightly Throughout Greater New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The most sweeping claim made by Messrs. Sheehy and Croker, representing the Tammany organization and who has the practical endorsement of the betting men about town, who have all along been offering odds on Van Wyck, is that the Tammany ticket will receive 250,000 out of the 475,000 votes registered in Greater New York. This is scouted by other party leaders. Next to Tammany, the greatest display of confidence is at Republican headquarters, where there seems to be a genuine belief that General Tracy will win. Seth Low's managers profess to be confident and those of George to be satisfied.

There are in progress nightly from 300 to 500 political meetings. This includes, of course, the minor gatherings in assembly district and ward club-rooms. It is claimed that for the remaining fortnight of the campaign the ing the nomination, has been given out. It discusses municipal affairs solely. A large part of the letter arraigns the present city administration for extravagance and calls attention to the discomforts the people are enduring through the delay in street improvements now in progress. Mr. Van Wyck then takes up the city's alleged grievances against the state legislature and attacks them at length.

After assaulting the Raines law he says:

"I favor its prompt repeal, and join in the demand of your platform, the enactment of an excise law, conservative of the public morals and liberal in its provisions that shall place its administration and revenues, so far as shall apply to the city, within the control of this municipality."

Mr. Van Wyck pledges himself to favor increase of schoolhouses, the establishment of rapid transit system, more bridges across East river, more parks, better docks, $1 gas, enforcement of the eight-hour law and home rule in the management of local concerns.

NEW RAILROAD DIRECTORS.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20.—At the annual meeting of the Cleveland and Terminal Valley railway the following officers were elected: Thomas M. King, J. M. Duane, Calvary Morris, S. H. McBride, George A. Garretson, S. T. Everett, L. V. Backus, F. H. Goff and James Bartol, directors; Thomas M. King, president; S. T. Everett, vice president; James Bartol, secretary and auditor, F. E. Rittman, treasurer.

Directors and officers for the Cleveland, Wooster and Muskingum Valley Railway company were elected as follows: Thomas M. King, F. H. Goff, E. G. Loomis, Daniel Duer and J. B. Taylor, directors; Thomas M. King, president; James Bartol, secretary; W. H. Ijams, treasurer; George H. Booth, auditor.

For the Akron and Chicago Junction railway the board and officers are: R. M. Gilbert, C. H. Palmer, W. T. Graham, T. M. King, E. G. Loomis, G. T. Perkins, James Sloan, Jr., A. Minnelli and M. R. Dickey, directors; Thomas M. King, president; James Bartol, secretary; W. H. Ijams, treasurer, and George W. Booth, auditor. These roads are part of the Baltimore and Ohio system.

ROBISON NOW PROSECUTED.

The Cleveland Capitalist Who Sued His Partner Is Himself Accused.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20.—C. F. Emery, one of the leading stockholders and a director and vice president of the Little Consolidated Street railway, has made an affidavit in the case of Frank De Hass Robison against the road and M. A. Hanna, which was filed in court.

Mr. Emery charges that Mr. Robison is indebted to the stockholders of the company over $116,000, instead of having an action against the company, and avers that Mr. Robison has had arrested for embezzlement, neglected to carry out obligations imposed upon them as trustees of certain stock held in reserve and misapplied $485,000 of that stock.

COXEY AS AN ARISTOCRAT.

He Is Having Built an Elegant Private Railway Car.

LIMA, Oct. 20.—Jacob S. Coxey, the Populist candidate for governor, will no longer travel in the middle-of-the-pike by horseback. The Lima Locomotive and Machine works, car department, has a private car almost completed in which Mr. Coxey will travel.

The car is being fitted up in fine style, one end has storage room enough for his big tent and equipments, and he will go prepared to unload at any point in Ohio and talk to the multitude on short notice, then move on.

FURNISHED LANGTRY MONEY.

The Jersey Lily's Attorney Says He Acted as Agent.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Sir George Lewis, counsel for Mrs. Lily Langtry, has issued a statement in reference to the report that the husband of the actress, when he was found wandering helplessly in the vicinity of Crowe, previous to his commitment to an asylum for the insane at Chester, had only a few copper coins in his pocket.

The lawyer says that since the separation of Mrs. Langtry from her husband she had paid Mr. Langtry regularly through her counsel (Sir George Lewis) an adequate allowance and that as soon as Mrs. Langtry heard of Mr. Langtry's condition of health she forwarded to the authorities of Chester money sufficient for the immediate wants of the sufferer.

The allowance paid Mr. Langtry, Sir George Lewis adds, was entirely irrespective of the income which he derived from his property in Ireland.

Charges Against Postoffice Officials.

The Fever Situation Appears to Be No Better in New Orleans.

ENFORCEMENT OF CIVIL SERVICE.

Cabinet Decided to Adopt the Plan of Secretary Gage.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The cabinet devoted considerable time to a discussion of the civil service at its meetings and how to obtain the best results from the recent order promulgated by the president. A decision was reached that each department should prepare and adopt regulations to meet the requirements of the order.

While each department will formulate its own regulations, there was a general sentiment that it would be well to have them along the general lines of the regulations issued by the treasury department, to carry out the president's order. Secretary Gage, it will be remembered, permitted persons against whom charges were made to have a hearing and an opportunity to answer them.

A Universalist's Charge.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Rev. A. J. Canfield, pastor of St. Paul's Universalist church of this city, created a mild sensation in his welcoming address to the 200 delegates to the biennial national conference of the Universalist church. Dr. Dranfield said that the Universalists' doctrine had become so widely accepted in this country that other denominations are taking up the liberal spirit, while at the same time they show no signs of relenting in their harsh feelings against their teachers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Senator Morgan and his daughters and F. M. Hatch, the new minister from Hawaii, were among the passengers who arrived from Honolulu upon the steamship Belgic.

Senator Morgan expressed himself as well pleased with what he saw and the manner in which he was entertained while on the islands. He is more than ever enthusiastic on the subject of annexation and intimated that Hawaii may become a part of this country before the close of the coming year. He says:

"Hawaii is certainly going to be a state, but whether it will be at the time of its annexation or later remains to be seen. Should it be annexed as a territory the Hawaiian committee will recommend that it should be admitted to statehood, and a special act of congress would undoubtedly follow."

"I have favored annexation from the beginning, but I was surprised upon investigating the matter to find that the arguments in favor of the movement had been underestimated. In my opinion Hawaii is absolutely indispensable to the United States and we must have those islands. The only opposition found was that of a few of the Lilioukalani royalists, who have no weight over there and are for the most part royalists for revenue only."

CHRISTIAN HOME MISSIONS.

Secretary's Report Shows Active Work Among Negroes of the South.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 20.—The American Christian Missionary society, department of the National Christian church, has held its first session here. Benjamin L. Smith, secretary, submitted his annual report. After this report was disposed of, M. M. Davis, president of the society, spoke on "Priority of Home Missions."

The secretary's report was largely devoted to the work among the negroes of the south. It showed that the moneys received and expended since 1892 amounted to $55,979.83. The report said there was reason for congratulation in the fact that the work is carried on with the best wishes and cooperation of the southern people.

A financial report of the board of negro educational and evangelization of the southern church for the year shows a grand total raised of $11,364.20. The session of the National Christian church convention, department of foreign missions, was devoted largely to reports from the fields. These included Africa, Turkey and European missions.

The committee on Turkey reported that the past year had been one of great trial and affliction to missionaries and churches to which they minister. The African report showed that there are now in Africa 45 missionary organizations with 1,200 missionaries and 5,200 native helpers; also 1,900 churches with a membership of 120,000 and a community of 1,000,000 friendly to the work; 1,100 schools and colleges with 60,000 pupils.

The Europe committee noted the baptism of 200 persons in the churches of England and that these churches contributed 20 per cent more to the missions than during the previous year.

Bridgejumper Not Injured.

R. A. VAN WYCK.

Tracy leaders have arranged for an average of 400 meetings per night, at each of which there will be a full complement of speakers.

A reminder of the widespread interest shown in the campaign of last fall is the work of women—either organized into clubs or acting independently. Thus far, General Tracy and Mr. George seem to have the call in the favor of the feminine portion of the population, and many of the McKinley and Bryan women's clubs of 1896 are again to the fore.

Richard Croker spent half an hour at Tammany Hall. His views were asked on the subject of disciplining certain of the Democratic leaders in Kings county, who have threatened to cut Van Wyck. Mr. Croker advised against action.

Speaking of some Tammanyites who had gone over to the Citizens' Union he said: "It is a singular fact that men who are kicked out of Tammany all become reformers."

Croker thinks it is a mistake to bring speakers from outside of New York to tell voters here what they ought to do in a municipal campaign.

Henry George was again in a reminiscent mood. It grew out of an allusion to the question of veracity which has arisen between him and ex-Comptroller Irvin over the mayoralty campaign of 1886 and related to the part taken in that canvass by the Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn, which resulted in Dr. McGlynn's suspension from the priestly office.

Mr. George said he went to Archbishop Corrigan to plead for Dr. McGlynn.

"The archbishop was very impatient," he said, "and would not listen to my explanation, which I tried to make clear was not in any way antagonistic to the Catholics or the doctrines of the Catholic church. He would not listen. You know how these people are. Tammany ran the archiepiscopal college at that time."

Allen W. Thurman, son of the late Senator Allen G. Thurman, has written a letter to Henry George, which sincerely wishes George success. Mr. Thurman was formerly chairman of the Ohio State Democratic committee.

Colonel Henry L. Swords, sergeant-at-arms to the Republican national committee, has visited Wall street and offered to bet any part of $25,000, at even money, that General Tracy will poll more votes than Seth Low, in the mayoralty contest. He succeeded in placing about $3,000 of it among members of the Stock Exchange and half as much more with several brokers on the "curb."

"This is only a small part of the Tracy money lying around loose," said the colonel. "The only trouble is we can't find any Low money to put it up against."

Van Wyck still leads in the betting on the Stock Exchange. Odds are good as two to one that he will win out.

The letter of Robert A. Van Wyck, Tammany candidate for mayor, accept-

R. A. VAN WYCK.

Tracy leaders have arranged for an average of 400 meetings per night, at each of which there will be a full complement of speakers.

A reminder of the widespread interest shown in the campaign of last fall is the work of women—either organized into clubs or acting independently. Thus far, General Tracy and Mr. George seem to have the call in the favor of the feminine portion of the population, and many of the McKinley and Bryan woman's clubs of 1896 are again to the fore.

Richard Croker spent half an hour at Tammany Hall. His views were asked on the subject of disciplining certain of the Democratic leaders in Kings county, who have threatened to cut Van Wyck. Mr. Croker advised against action.

Speaking of some Tammanyites who had gone over to the Citizens' Union he said: "It is a singular fact that men who are kicked out of Tammany all become reformers."

Crocker thinks it is a mistake to bring speakers from outside of New York to tell voters here what they ought to do in a municipal campaign.

Henry George was again in a reminiscent mood. It grew out of an allusion to the question of veracity which has arisen between him and ex-Comptroller Evans over the mayoralty campaign of 1886 and related to the part taken in that canvass by the Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn, which resulted in Dr. McGlynn's suspension from the priestly office.

Mr. George said he went to Archbishop Corrigan to plead for Dr. McGlynn.

"The archbishop was very impatient," he said, "and would not listen to my explanation, which I tried to make clear was not in any way antagonistic to the Catholics or the doctrines of the Catholic church. He would not listen. You know how these people are. Tammany ran the archiepiscopal college at that time."

Allen W. Thurman, son of the late Senator Allen G. Thurman, has written a letter to Henry George, which sincerely wishes George success. Mr. Thurman was formerly chairman of the Ohio State Democratic committee.

Colonel Henry L. Swords, sergeant-at-arms to the Republican national committee, has visited Wall street and offered to bet any part of $25,000, at even money, that General Tracy will poll more votes than Seth Low, in the mayoralty contest. He succeeded in placing about $3,000 of it among members of the Stock Exchange and half as much more with several brokers on the "curb."

"This is only a small part of the Tracy money lying around loose," said the colonel. "The only trouble is we can't find any Low money to put it up against."

Van Wyck still leads in the betting on the Stock Exchange. Odds are good as two to one that he will win out.

DEATH OF GEORGE M. PULLMAN.

The Sleeping Car Magnate Died From Heart Disease—His Career.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—George M. Pullman, the sleeping car magnate, has expired suddenly of heart disease. The family physician reached him just before he died. His wife was in New York at the time.

George Mortimer Pullman was born in Chautauqua county, New York, March 3, 1831. At 14 he began life as a clerk in a country store, later associating himself with an older brother in the cabinetmaking business at Albion. He came to Chicago in 1859 and at first engaged in the business of raising buildings, elevating entire blocks a number of feet to bring them up to new street grades.

While riding in an old-fashioned sleeping car from Buffalo to Westfield, N. Y., it occurred to him there was a field for building comfortable sleeping coaches. From 1859 to 1863 he made a series of experiments on the Chicago and Alton and Galena roads. From these experiments he worked out detailed plans. A workshop was rented, skilled mechanics employed and Mr. Pullman threw himself into the task with the ardor of a man who moves from settled convictions. Although without mechanical training himself, he personally directed the work of others in all the minor details of putting the ideas he had originated into material form. The first car, the Pioneer, was completed early in 1865, and immediately took rank as the most perfect railway vehicle the world had ever seen. This was the beginning of the Pullman system, which has grown to the present enormous proportion.

The town of Pullman is regularly laid out and consists of neat homes, constructed for the use of the employees of the big car plant. The relations of the company and its employees were so amicable for so long a time that the Pullman system was pointed to by many as an illustration of the relations which should exist between employer and employee. A strain finally came in these relations, however, and it resulted in one of the hardest fought labor battles of years.

Mr. Pullman leaves two sons, Sanger and George M., Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. Carolan of San Francisco and Mrs. Frank O. Loudon of Chicago.

Mr. Pullman was president of the Pullman Palace Car company, the Pullman Southern Car company, the Pullman Pacific Car company and the Pullman European company. He possessed large holdings of stock in various railways. He was a director in and was prominently identified with the Union Pacific and the Northern Pacific. In 1867 he organized the Pullman Palace Car company, of which he has been the president ever since. He also was president of the New York Loan and Improvement company, which built the Metropolitan Elevated railroad.

His fortune is estimated at from $12,000,000 to $50,000,000.

BRIBING LETTERS.

A New Sensation in the Luetgert Case. Jury Still Deadlocked.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The Luetgert jury spent the night on cots in the courtroom.

Judge Tuthill, about 8 o'clock last night, was told by the bailiffs in charge of the jury that several of the jurymen were almost exhausted by the ordeal to which they had been subjected and that if they were not allowed some rest it would certainly result in some of them becoming ill. The jury also sent word that there was immediate prospect of an agreement, and under the circumstances the judge gave orders that they be permitted to drop the case and go to sleep. The cots were quickly dragged into the courtroom and within a few minutes every juror was stretched out at full length and all consideration of the case was postponed until they should awaken.

Either a verdict or disagreement is expected some time today.

Two letters offering bribes to the foreman of the jury in the Luetgert case have been received by Judge Tuthill and are now in the possession of the state's attorney. The amount offered is $1,600. Both letters are signed George Atrill. State's Attorney Deneen is not disposed to regard the attempted bribery seriously, but Inspector Schaak and Assistant State's Attorney McEwen look upon the matter with suspicion.

STARTED THE SURVEY

Mr. Farmer and His Force Are Now at Work.

FOUND THE STARTING POINT

Some Progress Was Made Today, the Line Being Taken Up Near the Old Stone Pier. Some People Believe the Road Has Disappeared Long Ago.

After days of waiting and more discussion than a survey has ever before caused in this part of the world, County Surveyor Farmer and his men this morning began to locate the river road.

The party went to Smith's Ferry, yesterday afternoon, and put in several hours endeavoring to find the line. The starting point was hard to locate, and work was commenced a short distance beyond the state line. At length the point was located, and work was commenced 150 feet west of the old stone pier, and the work was pushed down the river as rapidly as possible.

Thomas Smith was in the party yesterday afternoon. He was born here 84 years ago, and 20 years later drove over the road.

The survey caused some discussion last evening among a number of old residents, and several expressed the belief that the surveying party would have a hard time locating the road, believing that some portions of it have long ago been washed away, particularly when it was years ago close to the river.

THE CONCERT.

It Was a Triumph For Mr. C. Ernest Gamble.

The Grand Opera House contained a critical audience last night, gathered there for the purpose of hearing C. Ernest Gamble, Miss Alice Goodwin, Mr. Boyd and Miss Hazel Reed take part in what proved to be one of the best concerts ever given in the city.

Mr. Gamble is without doubt a great singer. His voice is rich and powerful, and his appearance is so pleasing that every listener is his friend the moment he steps on the stage. Nature has done much for the young gentleman and aided by the best possible training has produced a singer whose success has already been reached. Mr. Gamble sang well last night, and when it was announced that he would render "I am King O'er the Land and the Sea," Prof. W. L. Thompson's excellent composition, the audience in compliment as much to that gentleman as to the singer, broke forth in applause.

Miss Alice Goodwin materially aided in the success of the concert, and sang delightfully, while Miss Hazel Reed added to her excellent reputation as an elocutionist. Mr. Boyd, the accompanist, is a finished pianist. Miss Mary Pringle was Miss Goodwin's accompanist. The concert was without doubt a delightful affair, and Manager Norris deserves great credit for providing the music loving people of East Liverpool with an entertainment so pleasing.

While in the city Mr. Gamble was entertained at the residence of C. C. Thompson in Cook street, and Mr. Boyd was the guest of Professor Harper who announced the numbers of the program. Mr. Gamble sings this evening in Wells-ville, and a number of people from this city will go there to hear him.

On the River.

The river remains stationary, and the marks today showed 10 inches in the channel at this port.

Coal is said to be growing very scarce at Cincinnati and other Ohio river points. The supply of river coal below is well nigh exhausted, and the railroads are making up the deficiency. At present the demand is not great on account of the warm weather, but if a cold spell comes within the next few days the scarcity will be badly felt by consumers. The railroads will be taxed to supply the trade, and as a result prices will go up.

Taken a Position.

C. L. Tarr, of this city, has taken a position with the Daniel Ryan repertoire company. The attraction will play here on Thanksgiving.

A representative of the Columbia Tailoring company, of Cincinnati, O., an expert tailor, will be at Erlanger's store Thursday next all day to take measures for trousers, suits and overcoats. Be on hand.

WELLSVILLE.

TOWN WILL BE DIRTY

The Cleaning Ordinance Is No Good.

YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE GONE

Their Convention Was a Pronounced Success and Very Interesting—Notifying Property Owners—More Time at the shops—All the News.

The board of health is doing all it can to have Wellsville look neat, clean and healthy, but it seems that it has collided with a few circumstances which work to prevent the realization of that desire.

The board not only decided to clean the town, but instructed Mayor Jones to enforce the ordinance which says that property owners must keep one-half the street on which the property is located in good condition. The mayor issued an order, and some work was done on Broadway and Main street, but some one objected, and the matter was taken to the solicitor. He looked over the law and decided that it would not stand, and there the matter rests. From present indications the city will not be cleaned unless the board uses force with the council.

The Young People.

The Endeavor convention came to an end last night. A large number of persons being present.

The program for yesterday afternoon was carried out. The reports were received, some comment being excited by the announcement that the society of the First church, East Liverpool, had neglected to send reports or delegates. That society is the largest in the presbytery. The junior exercises were interesting.

After devotional exercises in the evening Miss Mary L. Moore, of the Second church, Liverpool, gave the "Morning Watch" and the "Deepening of the spiritual life of our young people" was an interesting address by Rev. A. D. McCullough. Rev. A. A. Giffen talked entertainingly, and the convention closed with consecration service.

The next meeting will be held at Minerva. Invitations were received from several places.

At the Shops.

Very few bad order cars are being received at the shops since the shortage became noticeable. Heretofore the number usually received per month was from 400 to 500, but now only 50 to 100 are tracked.

There is surely prosperity in the machine department of the shops. Yesterday the men received orders to put in 72 hours per week until further orders.

Omitted a Few.

Mayor Jones has been notifying property owners along the line of the proposed switch, and the required papers have been sent to a number of parties.

There has been a mistake in listing the land, several properties having been omitted. If the error is not corrected there may be confusion when the matter comes to a focus.

The News of Wellsville.

Winn Risher is expected home from West Virginia today.

Metsch's new mill in the West End is receiving new machinery today, and workmen are busy putting it in place.

The Cleveland and Pittsburg shops will receive some engines from the Erie and Pittsburg division for repairs. They will be out of the shops within a few days.

J. H. DeVinne, of Allegheny, is in the city.

Manager Rose, of the Monarchs, was in the city yesterday evening arranging a game for the Monarchs. The Athletics will not likely play next Saturday on account of being in such a crippled condition.

Judge W. G. Wells, of Lisbon, is in the city.

Mrs. M. D. Cornelius is in the city on her way home to Avalon, Pa.

Superintendent Fogo went down to Bellaire to hear Senator Foraker last evening.

Fisher and H. Brockett, of the Athletics, are victims of the recent football game. Fisher has a bad wrist and Brockett a bad shoulder. They will not play again soon.

A number of Wellsville Republicans will hear Senator Foraker and Congressman Taylor at East Liverpool tonight.

Political matters are becoming interesting. Not a day passes without some heated argument or other occurrence of interest. It is said the Democrats are more active in Wellsville than in any other part of the county.

WELLSVILLE.

TOWN WILL BE DIRTY

The Cleaning Ordinance Is No Good.

YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE GONE

Their Convention Was a Pronounced Success and Very Interesting—Notifying Property Owners—More Time at the shops—All the News.

The board of health is doing all it can to have Wellsville look neat, clean and healthy, but it seems that it has collided with a few circumstances which work to prevent the realization of that desire.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, OCT. 20.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Governor, Asa S. Bushnell.
Lieutenant governor, A. W. Jones.
Supreme judge, Jacob A. Burkett.
Attorney general, Frank Monnet.
State treasurer, Samuel Campbell.
School commissioner, L. D. Bonebrake.
Member of Board of Public Works, C. A. Joddard.
For Senator, W. V. Blake.
For Representative, P. M. Ashford of Washington township.
For Treasurer, Charles E. Smith of Fairfield township.
For Sheriff, Charles Gill of Liverpool township.
For Commissioner, W. K. George of Madison township.
For Prosecutor, J. H. Brookes of Liverpool township.
For Infirmary Director, C. D. Filson of Center township.

THE average Republican can claim victory for the state ticket because there is no indication looking to its defeat.

MR. CHAPMAN says times are no better than they were under Cleveland, yet he knows that his mines are turning out more coal than at any time since the last administration.

THE women of a number of Kansas towns have decided that they should not wear their hats while in church, and the movement is spreading. The man who said no good could come out of Kansas was wrong.

MR. BRICE and Mr. Sorg are not taking any active part in the campaign, but they are keeping a close watch on Mr. McLean. They know that individual, and would much rather help each other than do him a good turn.

MR. COXEY is not often heard of.
His campaign is not much of a consideration. A few years ago it was different, but Coxeys has had his day. The people who rallied to his support have seen that in men of his caliber there is nothing beyond idle words.

THE suspicion is gaining ground that McLean, if he should by some unforeseen freak of fortune become senator, would forget Ohio and when in the senate devoted his time to looking after the District of Columbia. It is possible. Mc-Lean has millions invested in Washington.

THE Republican meeting this evening is not alone for Republicans. Every man who would know the issues of the campaign should hear Hon. J. B.
Foraker and Hon. R. W. Taylor. They are capable of clearing many a dark and dusky portion in one's political views.

THE sound of conflict in New York has floated over the Alleghenies and found its way to East Liverpool where the people are thinking and some of them talking municipal reform. They may not be in sympathy with some of Seth Low's ideas, but they favor any well organized movement which aims to purify local government and give the taxpayer that for which he pays. Unless the signs all fail the Ceramic City will know more of this before summer comes again.

IT'S HARD FOR THEM.

Some Democratic newspapers in this congressional district have just cause to complain of hard times, for their advertising columns are filled with boiler plate, which costs money, instead of the stirring announcements of prosperous merchants, which bring in money.
And that is not all. Those advertising columns will likely continue vacant, and the publishers will likely pay out more money for boiler plate, unless the policy of these papers is changed. No business man, however fierce a partisan he may be, will support any publication which endeavors to destroy his business and ruin his trade by its doleful cry of calamity.

REV. O. S. REED REPLIES

To the Missionary Fathers at St. Aloysius.

NOTES A FEW EXCEPTIONS

He Puts Forward the Protestant's Side of the Communion Service, and Gives Several Arguments In Support of His Well Tried Doctrine.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I have noted, with satisfaction, that the columns of your paper are open to free discussion of questions of general interest to our people. At present much interest gathers about the discussion of Catholicity, as advanced by two of its representative men. Night after night is the church crowded to hear discourses, and particularly answers to questions propoounded. To many of the answers thus far given the writer would take exception, and to one he desires, as briefly as it is possible to do, to present his exceptions.

In answer to inquiries the statement has been made repeatedly that transub-stantiation was a doctrine of the Catholic church, that by words uttered by the priest a wafer, made of flour—just common, plain flour—is converted into the body, and that wine—the vintage from the grape—is converted into the blood, and that thus, in the Lord's supper, we have the real body and blood of the Savior. I look upon this as little short of blasphemy. On what is it made to rest? Citation was made last evening to Matthew 26:26: "And as they were eating Jesus took bread and blessed and broke it, and gave to his disciples; and said, "Take eat, this is my body." And he took the cup and gave thanks and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it." This declaration of Christ is either literal or figurative. Rome says literal; Protestantism says figurative. Rules of interpretation urge that the plain common sense meaning of words is to be held unless obstacles intervene which drive us to seek a figurative use. How stands the case with regard to transub-stantiation? Let us see what difficulties are in the way of this theory.

First—It offers two bodies instead of one, the living holding in its hands the dead. If the bread body was the one broken, then they eat a dead body and depend on it to give them life; if it was not dead, then they have no body at all.
And, if the word, broken, is literal, then it follows that they are left without a body, since "not a bone of him," said the prophet, "shall be broken."

Second—It makes Christ eat himself.
Christ said to the disciples, "I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine till I drink it anew with you—in my Father's kingdom." It follows, then, that in his Father's kingdom he converted the bread and wine into his own blood, flesh and divinity, and devoured himself.

Third—It confers upon the priest creative power (a power quite in keeping with his gratuitous claim of forgiving sins), in that, by words, he brings about this trans-substantiation, and thus has, instead of bread, the body, blood and divinity of Christ.

Fourth—It compels man to repudiate the evidence of all his senses—the only avenues of approach to his mind. Each of the senses in turn gives evidence that bread remains bread and wine remains wine.

Fifth—It is worse than cannibalism,
Paul says Corinthians 10:20, "The Gentiles sacrifice to devils. They are par-

A Nation of Medicine Takers.

It is an accepted fact that the American people are the greatest users of medicines of one sort or another on the face of the earth. Imaginary ills make up a large part of man's earthly troubles.
Some people need only to read the vivid description of some chronic disease, and they are at once victims to the complaint in question. Many patent medicine vendors make use of this peculiarity and lead some people to believe that their tired feeling comes from their blood not being rich and red. Millions would be saved and our general health would be better if we would take medicine only when really needed and then get a remedy specially prepared for the disease with which we are suffering.

As an illustration, when you have sore throat, there can't be any imagination about it. Your throat hurts;
probably is covered with white ulcerated spots, and you know you need a remedy. Use good judgment. Get a cure put up for this one purpose.
There is such a remedy. Tonsiline is its name, and it is a wonder in its field. Being put up for this one class of diseases, it cures quickly, surely, and many times as if by magic. No family can afford to be without Tonsiline in the home, as it is a certain cure for Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy. Ask your neighbors who have used it. All druggists sell Tonsiline. 25 and 50 cents.

takers of the tables of devils, and drink the cup of devils." How? They offered the flesh of animals to devils and then ate of it in honor of devils. What does the priest? He offers to God the flesh of his son and eats it to honor him! The heathen drank the blood of animals that were offered in sacrifice, the priest drinks the blood of Christ. Had the heathen invoked the power of the priest and by transubstantiation rendered wafers flesh, they might have saved their meat.

Sixth—Christ said "do this in memory of me." What! Eat flesh in remembrance of flesh! drink blood in remembrance of blood! We can partake of one thing in memory of another, but to take of the same thing in memory of itself is madness run mad.

I pronounce this superstition gross as that of the dark ages whence it sprang, a perversion of the plain teachings of the book. O. S. REED.

CUBE ROOT MADE EASY.

How Any Bright Scholar May Learn to Tell It Offhand.

To find the cube root of any given number of figures offhand seems an almost impossible feat, but yet it is simple enough when one knows how to do it—so simple, indeed, that any bright boy can learn to do it in a few weeks.

First he must know exactly what a cube is—namely, that it is the result of multiplying one number by itself and then multiplying the product by the original number. Thus, 3 multiplied by 3 equals 9, and 9 multiplied by 3, the original number, produces 27, which consequently is the cube of 3. The cube root of 27 is the original number, 3, and to find the cube root is the reverse of finding the cube. He would be adept at this art should first study carefully
the following figures:

1X1X1= 1	2X2X2= 8	3X3X3= 27
4X4X4= 64	5X5X5=125	6X6X6=216
7X7X7=343	8X8X8=512	9X9X9=729

A close study of these figures shows that 2 multiplied in this manner by itself results in 8, that 8 multiplied by itself has 2 as a final figure, that 8 multiplied by itself has 7 as a final figure, that 7 multiplied by itself has 3 as a final figure, and that 4, 5, 6 and 9 multiplied by themselves have their original figures as finals. Hence the "artist" knows that any sum given to him the final figure of which is 8 must have 2 as a cube root; that if the final figure be 9, the cube root must be 9, and so on.

For example, give him the figures 74,088, and he can at once tell that 42 is the cube root, for the reason that 74 has 4 as a cube root, as the cube of 4 is 64, while the cube of 5 is 125, much more than 74, and 088 has 2 as a cube root.

Or give him a more difficult problem,
as, for example, the figures 324,369.
Then he will see at a glance that 324 is more than 216, which is the cube of 6, but is less than 343, the cube of 7.
Therefore the cube root of these three figures is 6. In like manner the final figure of 369 being 9, it follows that the cube root of these three figures is 9, and thus the cube root of the six figures has been shown to be 69.

Any one can test this method for himself, and a little practice is all that is needed to make one as deft in such jugglery of figures as the best "lightning calculator."

Of course a skilled arithmetician could easily frame problems that could not be solved in this offhand fashion, but such difficult tests are seldom offered by public audiences, and, as a rule, the "artists" are easily able to answer all the questions asked of them.—New York Herald.

MR. CHAPMAN says times are no better than they were under Cleveland, yet he knows that his mines are turning out more coal than at any time since the last administration.

The women of a number of Kansas towns have decided that they should not wear their hats while in church, and the movement is spreading. The man who said no good could come out of Kansas was wrong.

MR. BRICE and Mr. Sorg are not taking any active part in the campaign, but they are keeping a close watch on Mr. McLean. They know that individual, and would much rather help each other than do him a good turn.

MR. COXEY is not often heard of. His campaign is not much of a consideration. A few years ago it was different, but Coxeys has had his day. The people who rallied to his support have seen that in men of his caliber there is nothing beyond idle words.

The suspicion is gaining ground that McLean, if he should by some unforeseen freak of fortune become senator, would forget Ohio and when in the senate devote his time to looking after the District of Columbia. It is possible. McLean has millions invested in Washington.

The Republican meeting this evening is not alone for Republicans. Every man who would know the issues of the campaign should hear Hon. J. B. Foraker and Hon. R. W. Taylor. They are capable of clearing many a dark and dusky portion in one's political views.

The sound of conflict in New York has floated over the Alleghenies and found its way to East Liverpool where the people are thinking and some of them talking municipal reform. They may not be in sympathy with some of Seth Low's ideas, but they favor any well organized movement which aims to purify local government and give the taxpayer that for which he pays. Unless the signs all fail the Ceramic City will know more of this before summer comes again.

IT'S HARD FOR THEM.

Some Democratic newspapers in this congressional district have just cause to complain of hard times, for their advertising columns are filled with boiler plate, which costs money, instead of the stirring announcements of prosperous merchants, which bring in money. And that is not all. Those advertising columns will likely continue vacant, and the publishers will likely pay out more money for boiler plate, unless the policy of these papers is changed. No business man, however fierce a partisan he may be, will support any publication which endeavors to destroy his business and ruin his trade by its doleful cry of calamity.

REV. O. S. REED REPLIES

To the Missionary Fathers at St. Aloysius.

NOTES A FEW EXCEPTIONS

He Puts Forward the Protestant's Side of the Communion Service, and Gives Several Arguments in Support of His Well Tried Doctrine.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I have noted, with satisfaction, that the columns of your paper are open to free discussion of questions of general interest to our people. At present much interest gathers about the discussion of Catholicity, as advanced by two of its representative men. Night after night is the church crowded to hear discourses, and particularly answers to questions propounded. To many of the answers thus far given the writer would take exception, and to one he desires, as briefly as it is possible to do, to present his exceptions.

In answer to inquiries the statement has been made repeatedly that transubstantiation was a doctrine of the Catholic church, that by words uttered by the priest a wafer, made of flour—just common, plain flour—is converted into the body, and that wine—the vintage from the grape—is converted into the blood, and that thus, in the Lord's supper, we have the real body and blood of the Savior. I look upon this as little short of blasphemy. On what is it made to rest? Citation was made last evening to Matthew 26:26: "And as they were eating Jesus took bread and blessed and broke it, and gave to his disciples; and said, 'Take eat, this is my body.' And he took the cup and gave thanks and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it." This declaration of Christ is either literal or figurative. Rome says literal; Protestantism says figurative. Rules of interpretation urge that the plain common sense meaning of words is to be held unless obstacles intervene which drive us to seek a figurative use. How stands the case with regard to transubstantiation? Let us see what difficulties are in the way of this theory.

First—It offers two bodies instead of one, the living holding in its hands the dead. If the bread body was the one broken, then they eat a dead body and depend on it to give them life; if it was not dead, then they have no body at all. And, if the word, broken, is literal, then it follows that they are left without a body. Hence "not a bone of him," said the prophet, "shall be broken."

Second—It makes Christ eat himself. Christ said to the disciples, "I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine till I drink it anew with you—in my Father's kingdom." It follows, then, that in his Father's kingdom he converted the bread and wine into his own blood, flesh and divinity, and devoured himself.

Third—It confers upon the priest creative power (a power quite in keeping with his gratuitous claim of forgiving sins), in that, by words, he brings about this transubstantiation, and thus has, instead of bread, the body, blood and divinity of Christ.

Fourth—It compels man to repudiate the evidence of all his senses—the only avenues of approach to his mind. Each of the senses in turn gives evidence that bread remains bread and wine remains wine.

Fifth—It is worse than cannibalism, Paul says Corinthians 10:20, "The Gentiles sacrifice to devils. They are partakers of the tables of devils, and drink the cup of devils." How? They offered the flesh of animals to devils and then ate of it in honor of devils. What does the priest? He offers to God the flesh of his son and eats it to honor him! The heathen drank the blood of animals that were offered in sacrifice, the priest drinks the blood of Christ. Had the heathen invoked the power of the priest and by transubstantiation rendered wafers flesh, they might have saved their meat.

Sixth—Christ said "do this in memory of me." What! Eat flesh in remembrance of flesh! drink blood in remembrance of blood! We can partake of one thing in memory of another, but to take of the same thing in memory of itself is madness run mad.

I pronounce this superstition gross as that of the dark ages whence it sprang, a perversion of the plain teachings of the book. O. S. REED.

CUBE ROOT MADE EASY.

How Any Bright Scholar May Learn to Tell It Offhand.

To find the cube root of any given number of figures offhand seems an almost impossible feat, but yet it is simple enough when one knows how to do it—so simple, indeed, that any bright boy can learn to do it in a few weeks.

First he must know exactly what a cube is—namely, that it is the result of multiplying one number by itself and then multiplying the product by the original number. Thus, 3 multiplied by 3 equals 9, and 9 multiplied by 3, the original number, produces 27, which consequently is the cube of 3. The cube root of 27 is the original number, 3, and to find the cube root is the reverse of finding the cube. The would be adept at this art should first study carefully the following figures:

1x1x1=1	2x2x2=8	3x3x3=27
4x4x4=64	5x5x5=125	6x6x6=216
7x7x7=343	8x8x8=512	9x9x9=729

A close study of these figures shows that 2 multiplied in this manner by itself results in 8, that 8 multiplied by itself has 2 as a final figure, that 8 multiplied by itself has 7 as a final figure, that 7 multiplied by itself has 3 as a final figure, and that 4, 5, 6 and 9 multiplied by themselves have their original figures as finals. Hence the "artist" knows that any sum given to him the final figure of which is 8 must have 2 as a cube root; that if the final figure be 9, the cube root must be 9, and so on.

For example, give him the figures 74,088, and he can at once tell that 42 is the cube root, for the reason that 74 has 4 as a cube root, as the cube of 4 is 64, while the cube of 5 is 125, much more than 74, and 088 has 2 as a cube root.

Or give him a more difficult problem, as, for example, the figures 324,369. Then he will see at a glance that 324 is more than 216, which is the cube of 6, but is less than 343, the cube of 7. Therefore the cube root of these three figures is 6. In like manner the final figure of 369 being 9, it follows that the cube root of these three figures is 9, and thus the cube root of the six figures has been shown to be 69.

Any one can test this method for himself, and a little practice is all that is needed to make one as deft in such jugglery of figures as the best "lightning calculator."

Of course a skilled arithmetician could easily frame problems that could not be solved in this offhand fashion, but such difficult tests are seldom offered by public audiences, and, as a rule, the "artists" are easily able to answer all the questions asked of them.—New York Herald.

FROM MOUNT PISGAH

The Prophet Rings Out Defiance to Foes.

HE WANTS W. V. BLAKE TO SUE

The Sage of Pisgah Denounces I. B. Cameron, and Tells His Side of the Story Respecting Perry Township, Yellow Creek Township, and other Obnoxious Dealings.

ST. CLAIR, Mt. Pisgah, Oct. 19, 1897.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—I note that a Democratic daily of East Liverpool, used, betimes, by would-be Republicans, and would-be bosses in the party, for the purpose of venting petty spite on men who cannot be driven by the party lash to do a dirty or dishonorable deed, or be forced to vote for a man absolutely unworthy of trust and unfit for association with honorable voters, who know and appreciate the fact that their franchise is a God-given right, and that they are held responsible by an all-wise being for the manner in which they use the ballot entrusted to their care.

In the issue of said Democratic daily of October 16th, it states that one Wm. V. Blake, of East Liverpool, contemplates bringing suit for libel against D. J. Smith; and, in the same article, quotes one I. B. Cameron, chairman of the Republican county committee, as saying that the county committee is not concerned at all in the matter; and farther quotes this fellow Cameron as saying: "We are not taking any interest in Smith's denunciations. We don't intend to dignify him by entering into personal controversy."

Who is this fellow Cameron? Since when has he become an autocrat, a dispenser of verdicts against old soldiers and life-long residents of these United States? Who has given him autocratic power? Who has assigned him as an arbiter of the fate of men whose shoes he is not worthy to unloose or even blacken. Why is he an utter coward? Why does he fail to come to the rescue of the fellow he assisted, in common with other creatures like himself, in foisting upon the grand old Republican party; a fellow who was not and is not the choice of the Republican voters, and who was not the choice of the representatives at the convention held to nominate candidates, but was placed on the ticket in absolute defiance and disregard of all rules governing honorable men in political life. Think of it, ye Republican voters of Columbiana county and this senatorial district. Previous to the Stenbenville convention they committed absolute fraud upon the ballot box, notably upon Perry township, and proof of this was brought forth under solemn oath. They substituted persons who were not selected by the people or apportioned according to the vote cast by the candidate voted for. Think of it! They decided, by unanimous vote in caucus, that when a delegate was not present, the selected alternate should cast the vote of the township; and then, in utter disregard of honor and all rules of justice and fair play, the gang substituted one Ferral, of Center township, to cast the vote for Yellow Creek township, when the alternate from that township was present in caucus with his certificate of regular appointment and made an earnest plea for recognition, but was arbitrarily turned down by this fellow Cameron, acting as chairman, assisted by his employers and backers. And think of this. When Mr. Adams, the regular delegate, arrived at the opening of the convention, the GANG voted to disfranchise Yellow Creek township, a township which has always been intensely loyal to the Republican party and the principles thereof. Did the ship come over the big pond and convey I. B. Cameron to this grand land for the express purpose of using the fellow as a medium for the transaction of such a fraud as this upon native born Republican voters?

Abraham Lincoln, the grandest Republican of them all, and for whom I worked with infinite zeal and endeavor, at a time when I. B. Cameron had not landed on our shores, exemplifies, to a nicety, the characteristics of this lilliputian, would be leader, when he gave an account of a miniature vessel, on one of the smaller streams, as follows: "It was a peculiar vessel. It was run by steam power. It wanted to be a mighty monster of the deep. It aimed to impress all beholders with the magnitude of its proportions. It aimed to be ruler and king of the waters. It had a FIVE FOOT BOILER and a SEVEN FOOT WHISTLE, and every time the whistle was blown the engine was exhausted and the steamer stopped."

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I earnestly hope, from the bottom of my heart, that Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE

Was the Plea Which He Entered, and It Was Accepted by Judge Smith—He Made a Few Remarks In Which He Said He Did Not Intend to Hurt His Wife—Was Anxious to Fight the Charge, and Believed He Would Be Acquitted.

LISBON, Oct. 20.—2:30.—[Special.]—

The Robison matter came to a sudden, but not altogether unexpected end this afternoon, when Zach Robison walked into common pleas court, declared he was guilty of murder in the second degree, and was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for life by Judge P. M. Smith.

Prosecutor Speaker said they still thought Robison guilty, but because the witnesses were scattered, one having left the country, it was thought best to accept the plea.

Robison was nervous and excited, and spoke in a low tone when asked if he had anything to say, but those who were standing near heard him declare that he did not intend to injure his wife when he walked into her room at the Hotel Grand, East Liverpool, the night she was murdered. He almost broke down while making his statement.

Judge Smith said that, although under the evidence, the prisoner was guilty he approved of the plea.

It was only after the case had been repeatedly explained to him that Robison would consent to plead guilty. He stated over and over again that he believed he would be acquitted. The negotiations looking to the acceptance of the plea were opened last Friday. Attorney H. E. Grosshans came from Liverpool this morning and the matter was soon settled. Judge Young is out of town.

Robison will be taken to Columbus as soon as possible.

Councilman Olnhausen Wants Law Enforced.

TOLD THE MAYOR AND CHIEF

The Practice Has Been Allowed to Go on Without Interruption Too Long—Commissioner Finley Is Making Parks About City Hall.

The mayor's office presented a merry scene when Councilman Olnhausen, Commissioner Finley, Sanitary Officer Burgess, Chief Johnson and Mayor Gilbert began talking about some things that demanded immediate attention.

"I want to know why the ordinance requiring all merchants, when they display their goods, to keep within the three foot limit, is not enforced," said Mr. Olnhausen. "This matter is fast becoming a nuisance, and the sooner it is stopped the better. Why, just look at some of the groceries of the town taken up as much as five or six feet to display their goods."

"And you want this stopped?" asked Chief Johnson.

"Certainly I do," said the councilman, "and if a start is never made the work will never be completed." The mayor looked at the book of ordinances, and the matter was finally decided to abate the nuisance.

Commissioner Finley had a word to say about the cleaning of the three lots around city hall. The work was started this morning, and within a short time trees will be planted and seats placed about the boundary.

"Now," said Mr. Finley, "I only have one team to do the work, and the streets are being neglected."

"Get another team and wagon," ejaculated an official, and the commissioner said "all right," and went out.

A NOTABLE WEEK.

The Grand Will Be a Very Good Place to Go.

"Madam Sans Gene" is the attraction at the Grand tonight. It is one of the best of the season, and should be greeted by a crowded house.

HEARD FORAKER AT BELLAIRE.

The Prophet of Pisgah Was Highly Pleased.

D. J. Smith was in Bellaire, last night, where he heard Senator Foraker address a great crowd of people. Mr. Smith says that the Little Corporal has lost none of his power and spirit, and is as interesting an orator as ever. His reference to Cuba was loudly applauded.

Mr. Foraker spoke at Steubenville this afternoon.

Where to Get the News.

The sporting news which appeared in a local paper last night was in the NEWS REVIEW Monday evening, with the possible exception of the statement that the Rovers would play at New Castle next Thursday. That the NEWS REVIEW does not claim because the manager of the Rovers says it is untrue.

The paper also discovers that the Banksville miners have asked East Liverpool for aid, and the local committee are endeavoring to gather in all subscription papers. Some matters of interest in connection with the telephone company were also reproduced.

If you want all the news when it is news you must read the NEWS REVIEW.

Good Play for a Benefit.

The stage hands of the Grand have booked for their annual benefit "Puddin'-head Wilson," which will appear here Tuesday evening, Dec. 14. The attraction is too well known to need comment, and Liverpool playgoers will be given a rare treat. The title role is taken by Edwin Mayo, who has ably succeeded his father.

WORKINGMEN CALLED.

The American Federation Will Meet in Nashville in December.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. — President Samuel Gompers, by Frank Morrison, secretary, has issued a call to all affiliated unions for the seventeenth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, to be held at Nashville in the hall of the house of representatives at 10 o'clock Monday morning, Dec. 13 next.

The objects of the convention are in part thus set out in the call:

The severities of the industrial stagnation of the past four years have not yet been abated; the wrongs from which the workers suffer have not been righted; the injustice imposed upon our people remains unremedied; the overworked large mass and the unemployed many are still testimony to the folly of our age; the employment of children in our factories and workshops, though modified, lingers with us still, and the spectacle is witnessed of idle men and laboriously busy children; legislatures more concerned with the privileges to the few than the rights of many; with public assemblage and free speech invaded, threatened or forbidden, and the modern judicial weapon of injunction utilized in the effort to crush labor. These rights and wrongs and others of equal importance, but too numerous for reference here, must of necessity be considered by the forthcoming convention, and such action devised as shall tend to attain the one end and set aside the other.

BRITISHER STARVED TO DEATH.

England Has Good Case For Damages Against Spain.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Daily Chronicle this morning, commenting upon the death in Cuba last week of W. Hughes, correspondent of Black and White of London, who is said to have starved to death in the streets of Havana after having been maltreated and robbed by a party of Spanish guerrillas, says:

"If the story of his death is true, fresh execration of Spanish action will arise, and the British government may have something to say."

Spain and Portugal May Unite.

MADRID, Oct. 20.—There is much discussion here on the subject of the alliance between Spain and Portugal, which is reported to be in process of negotiation. The Portuguese minister of marine, who is now in Madrid, has expressed the belief that such an alliance may be accomplished at any moment.

Camden Sommer's Proposal.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 20.—Camden Sommers says if he did not think Governor Atkinson was misled in making his recent statement, either there would be a new governor or a new editor of The County Mail. He suggests that all Judge Camden's papers be placed in the hands of representatives of the New York Journal, World and Tribune and he will abide by their decision as to their being genuine.

JOHN LOGAN SAYS NO.

They Never Intended to Sell Liquor at Chicago Horse Show.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Citizens of Hyde Park have won out in their fight to prevent the sale of anything stronger than pop or circus lemonade at the coming horse show to be held in the Coliseum. Secretary John A. Logan of the Bit and Spur club has unequivocally declared that this auxiliary of the horse show will not violate the law. It will not sell liquor at the Coliseum.

In a communication to Mayor Harrison this fact is set forth. Furthermore, the officials of the club and the general manager of the horse show declare that the club never had any intention of violating the law by the sale of liquor in the prohibition district of Hyde Park.

MILAN BACK IN SERVIA.

The Cabinet Has Resigned, Probably For This Reason.

BELGRADE, Oct. 20.—The cabinet has resigned. It is supposed the resignation of the ministers is connected with the return of ex-King Milan to the Serbian capital. Milan arrived here in company with his son, King Alexander.

This is the first visit of ex-King Milan to the Serbian capital since his abdication in 1889, and trouble was expected to result from it, as the premier was said to have declared that he would resign if the former king was permitted to return here.

HAVANA, Oct. 20.—General Weyler has ordered the release from the Isle of Pines of 11 prisoners, who were, it was alleged, concerned in the uprising which resulted in the imprisonment of Senorita Evangelina Cossio y Cisneros, who recently escaped from the Casa Recojidas and is now in New York. To Investigate Lovering's Conduct.

FATHER GRAHAM'S VIEW

Thinks the Confessional a Good Thing.

NO MONEY IS EVER PAID

By the Sinner, Nor Accepted by the Priest. Another Large Audience Attended the Meeting at St. Aloysius Church Last Night.

A large audience assembled in St. Aloysius church last evening. Standing room was at a premium and long before the service began every seat in the spacious hall was filled. "The Confessional, Its Origin and Use" was the theme, and Father Graham discussed it thoroughly.

The discussion was opened by Father Kress, who devoted considerable time to answering objections that are usually presented by a skeptic. Father Graham then spoke in part:

"We hear the repeated question, 'Do all Catholics pay the priests to forgive their sins?' I will say right here that as often as I have gone to confession, and as long as I have been a priest I have yet to give or receive one cent of money for confession. Friends let me tell you that no money is needed. If I were to ask the members of this church, assembled here this evening, if they ever gave any money for confession, all would arise and say no. When a Catholic goes to confession he has a sorrow—a deep heart sorrow. He knows what the sins were, and what follows their commission. He does not get on his knees and say, 'Lord I am a sinner, forgive them.' He goes into detail, and then presents each and every sin to God, and says, 'I confess to Almighty God and to you, father, that I have sinned.' If he is a drinking man, and confesses he was drunk, the priest will then ask him why he went into a saloon, and by God's help to abstain from the use of liquor. All Catholics go to confession, even the priests, and oh, how good we feel to know that our sins are forgiven by God.

"You can hear all kinds of confessions. According to some reports it is a school of scandal. To others it is the most solemn moment in a Catholic's life. There are some people who think they can knock out the Catholic church with one blow, but the church has stood for 1900 years, and today is as solid as it ever was.

"What was Christ's mission upon the earth? Was it not to forgive sins? He came to lead man back to God, and to remove the barricade of sin, and to make the way clear to the kingdom of heaven. In one part of the Bible, Christ said to the man afflicted of the palsy, 'Son, be of good cheer; thy sins are forgiven thee,' and do you remember how the Jews shrugged their shoulders and shook their heads. The Catholic confesses in audience with a priest, and the non-Catholic will say only God can forgive sins.

"We can say that Christ loves us as much today as he did in years gone by. He will forgive as freely today as he did yesterday. Confession is not the product of human, but of divine wisdom. It was instituted by Christ. No Christian will deny that Christ could forgive sins and that he could communicate this power to men if he so wished. Did He do so? This is a question of fact, and can be answered by reading Matthew 16:19, and remember that it is sin that closes heaven's door against us. 'As the Father hath sent Me, I also send you.'

"Christ came to preach, convert sinners and pardon their sins. He give the like power to the apostles. When he said this he breathed on them and said, 'receive ye the Holy Ghost.' Now I heard some one say, 'I never sinned.' Dear friend, review your life and see whether you have or not. Sin is the greatest disease that ever came into the world. Christ came into the world to forgive sins, in short he had the remedy, and who is there here who says, 'I need it not?' My friends, in the name of God, no matter to what church you belong, believe in God. Put aside all prejudices, and take the great matter to heart and say that you believe in God.

"In one part of the Bible you will find it says, 'Confess your sins to one another.' Does that mean your neighbor? I venture to say that not many here this evening would on the morrow confess their sins to their neighbors. They may tell a few of them but not all of them. [Laughter.]

"If the Protestants confess to God you may rest assured that we Catholics do

the same thing. The apostles and early Christians practiced confession. It cannot be denied that confession was one of the principal doctrines of Christians in the first four centuries. Confession is not an invention of any pope or man. It is the greatest blessing Christ ever bestowed upon his people when he said, 'Arise, thy sins are forgiven thee.' That is proof conclusive that confession is wrought of God.

"If confession is such a terrible thing why then do Catholic parents send their children to confession? Do these parents desire to teach their children immorality? Do they want them to disobey them? No, confession is good. A good Catholic will confess his sins, and a bad one will not.

"When you hear talk of the Catholic church put all prejudice aside, and weigh the question yourself. Confession is a Catholic's stronghold; confessing one's sin to God is half the battle of life. Do not deceive yourself by any false hope. The matter of the pardon of our sins is too important to be lightly cast aside. A whole eternity depends upon the right solution of the problem of sin. Carefully study the Scriptures, and with prayer, and when you have arrived at the right solution, let not pride, which is the enemy of all spiritual progress, or any other earthly consideration stand between you and your God. The confession of your sins is a matter of great moment, and be you Protestant or Catholic do not let the matter go too long."

The subject for discussion this evening is "The man, the citizen, the church member." "Is the pope supreme in politics" is one of the points that will be given attention.

FATHER GRAHAM'S VIEW

Thinks the Confessional a Good Thing.

NO MONEY IS EVER PAID

By the Sinner, Nor Accepted by the Priest.
Another Large Audience Attended the Meeting at St. Aloysius Church Last Night.

A large audience assembled in St. Aloysius church last evening. Standing room was at a premium and long before the service began every seat in the spacious hall was filled. "The Confessional, Its Origin and Use" was the theme, and Father Graham discussed it thoroughly.

The discussion was opened by Father Kress, who devoted considerable time to answering objections that are usually presented by a skeptic. Father Graham then spoke in part:

"We hear the repeated question, 'Do all Catholics pay the priests to forgive their sins?' I will say right here that as often as I have gone to confession, and as long as I have been a priest I have yet to give or receive one cent of money for confession. Friends let me tell you that no money is needed. If I were to ask the members of this church, assembled here this evening, if they ever gave any money for confession, all would arise and say no. When a Catholic goes to confession he has a sorrow—a deep heart sorrow. He knows what the sins were, and what follows their commission. He does not get on his knees and say, 'Lord I am a sinner, forgive them.' He goes into detail, and then presents each and every sin to God, and says, 'I confess to Almighty God and to you, father, that I have sinned.' If he is a drinking man, and confesses he was drunk, the priest will then ask him why he went into a saloon, and by God's help to abstain from the use of liquor. All Catholics go to confession, even the priests, and oh, how good we feel to know that our sins are forgiven by God.

"You can hear all kinds of confessions. According to some reports it is a school of scandal. To others it is the most solemn moment in a Catholic's life. There are some people who think they can knock out the Catholic church with one blow, but the church has stood for 1900 years, and today is as solid as it ever was.

"What was Christ's mission upon the earth? Was it not to forgive sins? He came to lead man back to God, and to remove the barricade of sin, and to make the way clear to the kingdom of heaven. In one part of the Bible, Christ said to the man afflicted of the palsy, 'Son, be of good cheer; thy sins are forgiven thee,' and do you remember how the Jews shrugged their shoulders and shook their heads. The Catholic confesses in audience with a priest, and the non-Catholic will say only God can forgive sins.

"We can say that Christ loves us as much today as he did in years gone by. He will forgive as freely today as he did yesterday. Confession is not the product of human, but of divine wisdom. It was instituted by Christ. No Christian will deny that Christ could forgive sins and that he could communicate this power to men if he so wished. Did He do so? This is a question of fact, and can be answered by reading Matthew 16:19, and remember that it is sin that closes heaven's door against us. 'As the Father hath sent Me, I also send you.'

"Christ came to preach, convert sinners and pardon their sins. He give the like power to the apostles. When he said this he breathed on them and said, 'receive ye the Holy Ghost.' Now I heard some one say, 'I never sinned.' Dear friend, review your life and see whether you have or not. Sin is the greatest disease that ever came into the world. Christ came into the world to forgive sins, in short he had the remedy, and who is there here who says, 'I need it not?' My friends, in the name of God, no matter to what church you belong, believe in God. Put aside all prejudices, and take the great matter to heart and say that you believe in God.

"In one part of the Bible you will find it says, 'Confess your sins to one another.' Does that mean your neighbor? I venture to say that not many here this evening would on the morrow confess their sins to their neighbors. They may tell a few of them but not all of them. [Laughter.]

the same thing. The apostles and early Christians practiced confession. It cannot be denied that confession was one of the principal doctrines of Christians in the first four centuries. Confession is not an invention of any pope or man. It is the greatest blessing Christ ever bestowed upon his people when he said, 'Arise, thy sins are forgiven thee.' That is proof conclusive that confession is wrought of God.

"If confession is such a terrible thing why then do Catholic parents send their children to confession? Do these parents desire to teach their children immorality? Do they want them to disobey them? No, confession is good. A good Catholic will confess his sins, and a bad one will not.

"When you hear talk of the Catholic church put all prejudice aside, and weigh the question yourself. Confession is a Catholic's stronghold; confessing one's sin to God is half the battle of life. Do not deceive yourself by any false hope. The matter of the pardon of our sins is too important to be lightly cast aside. A whole eternity depends upon the right solution of the problem of sin. Carefully study the Scriptures, and with prayer, and when you have arrived at the right solution, let not pride, which is the enemy of all spiritual progress, or any other earthly consideration stand between you and your God. The confession of your sins is a matter of great moment, and be you Protestant or Catholic do not let the matter go too long."

The subject for discussion this evening is "The man, the citizen, the church member." "Is the pope supreme in politics" is one of the points that will be given attention.
